Gentlemen:-

I have received the price catalogue of the Parmlee Sale, but you have not told me what you consider the 1775 Continental dollar as being worth. Kindly write me to-morrow so that I will get it at my New York office on Thursday morning, for I am going away on Thursday and shall not return before the sale, and consequently I will be unable to bid, unless you give me an idea of what the coin is worth.

Yours truly,

Ernest R. Ackerman
